

TULSA botanic GARDEN & NATURE TRAIL

ANNUAL APPEAL
OCTOBER 11–31, 2026

Rooted here. Growing for tomorrow.

2026 IMPACT REPORT

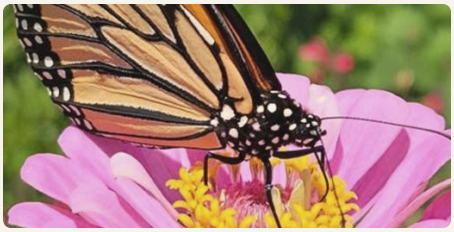

Last year, 75,000 people walked our paths to slow down and breathe. Underneath, the work goes on: a living collection catalogued plant by plant, a trail growing mile by mile. This is a botanic institution at work — built by people like you.

PEOPLE

Education, access & community

- Over 2,800 students & educators on field trips and BotaniCamp
- Hort Tours, workshops & literacy programs
- Over 2,500 free admissions for income-qualifying guests

PLANTS & NATURE

Horticulture & conservation

- Digital plant accessioning has begun
- Actively stewarding 170 acres of curated gardens and Cross Timbers Forest
- Monarch tagging & university research site

THE FUTURE

Building for the next generation

- Driskill Children's Discovery Garden renovation completed
- Nature Trail expanded to 4.7 miles, with a goal of 8
- Therapeutic Horticulture Program launching in 2027!

What our guests say

> Gorgeous! A Tulsa must see! Beautiful grounds that are so well maintained. Incredible views, interactive story path to engage children along the journey. So well thought out. We will definitely go again. Had to see everything in one visit. I highly recommend bringing children here to explore.

> I love the beautiful scenery. I always leave feeling whimsical. Thank you to whomever donated to EBT holders!! My children and I appreciate you so much!!
>

> …We've gotten the 2-year membership and go every other weekend. It's a beautiful place to walk the kids… They have events throughout the month and a cute little store inside. The garden is getting major work done, and I can't wait to see how much it expands when they're done developing the new areas.
